EDUCATION.

Beginning of the N. E. A. Sessions in Denver.

MEETING PLACE TOO SMALL.

An Overflow Meeting had to be Arranged for—Thousands of Teachers in Attendance—The Proceedings in Full Detail.

DENVER, July 9.—The first session of the 34th annual convention of the National Educational association held at the Central Presbyterian church this afternoon in the presence of 4,000 persons, the utmost capacity of the building, thousands of others being turned away from the doors. It is conceded by the railroad officials that no less than 15,000 people have so far arrived in the city either as delegates or visitors to the convention. So great was the overflow at the opening that arrangements were made for another meeting at the High School building, which was addressed by Col. Parker of Chicago, President DeGarmo of Swarthmore College, and President Cook of the Normal School of Illinois.

Despite the long distance that most of the delegates were obliged to travel, the attendance has rarely been equalled in numbers at any of the association's meetings, and never excelled in the character of educators in the deliberations.

The opening session of the general convention was called to order at 2:30 o'clock and after prayer by Dr. J. N. Freeman, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, Aaron Gove, superintendent of schools of Denver, and chairman of the arrangements, made a brief address of welcome. He was followed by Lieutenant Governor J. L. Brush, who represented the State of Colorado in the absence of Governor McIntire in St. Louis. Mayor T. S. Murray spoke twice for the city of Denver, after which Mrs. A. J. Peavey, State superintendent of schools, took the platform, receiving an ovation from the teachers present. Her address was on woman's work and she took for her text the exaltation of the sex in Colorado. Woman's part in educational progress was touched upon, and applause frequently interrupted her. She welcomed the teachers in the name of Colorado women.

Responses were made by President Butler, Secretary Shepard, Col. Francis W. Parker, principal of the Cook County Normal School, Chicago; ex-Governor Northern of Georgia, once known as "the educational Governor of the South," who responded for the teachers of the South and incidentally said a word for the cotton exposition.

After music by the Apollo club with 20 male voices, on motion of Gen. John Eaton, ex-commissioner of education of the United States, a cablegram of greeting was sent to Commissioner of Education Harris, and his traveling companion, Prof. Greenwood, of Kansas City, now in Edinburgh, Scotland.

Prof. E. F. Harmans of the Denver schools, gave a short address on the subject of physical training, calling attention to the necessity for keeping the body in proper condition during mental labor.

He was followed by classes in physicial training conducted by Prof. Jacob Schmitt, director of physical training of Denver schools.

Notice was given that to-morrow morning constitutional amendments relative to elections and other matters would be submitted.

After music by the Euterpe quartet, the meeting adjourned till 8 o'clock.

Evening Session.

Notwithstanding a cold rain which began about 5 o'clock and continued nearly all night, Central Presbyterian church was filled at the evening session. A. G. Lane of Chicago, first vice president, took the chair, and Prof. Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia College, president of the association, delivered his annual address on the subject: "What Knowledge Is of Most Worth?"

Mrs. Jay Robinson of Denver gave a vocal solo, after which Dr. William N. Hallman of Washington, D. C., national superintendent of Indian schools, spoke. "The Next Step In the Education of the Indian," was the subject of Dr. Hallman's address.

"The first step," said he, "in the civilization of the Indians must be education. It is practically impossible to cultivate the ideals of civilization under the influence of tribal relations. The allotment policy breaks this up, but the transition is too sudden for the older Indians who are unable to succeed in the new life and look with distrust upon education and make every effort to prevent the young from embracing it. Many whites living near the reservations are of an undesirable type. The Indians being under the supervision of the general government, the States feel no interest in them, looking upon them as troublesome foreigners. Much may be done in removing these obstacles by missionaries and philanthropists securing employment among them, but permanent good can only come when the States realizing their responsibility to the Indians within their borders, claim from the general government the right to control and protect them and assume the responsibility of carrying out treaties by which they are induced to become citizens."

Chicago Storage Warehouse Burned.

Chicago, July 9.—Three hundred thousand dollars worth of furniture and general merchandise was destroyed by fire to-night in the storage warehouse of Geo. Parry, at 156, 158 and 160 West Monroe street. Three firemen were painfully, though not seriously, wounded by falling bricks and glass. The buildings 158 and 160 were totally destroyed but No. 156 was saved by a fire wall and the contents were damaged only by water. The burned buildings were owned by Norton Pope of New York and were valued at $30,000.

Corrupt Officials in Gautemala.

San Francisco, July 9.—Recent cablegrams from Guatemala City brought news of a sensation in army circles in the republic of Guatemala over the refusal of the government to pay the salary demands of the soldiers. Charges had been made against treasury officials which were to the effect that over $3,000,000 had been stolen from the government, and the money used to swell private fortunes instead of to purchase arms and ammunition for the military. According to news received from Guatemala by local Central Americans the steal is more aggravating than was first thought,—says—The—Bulletin this evening. The Guatemalan Central railroad which is controlled by the Guatemala government and by C. P. Huntington, will not be extended so fast as contemplated to its port, Barrios, on the Atlantic terminus. The road, like the great Panama canal, has suffered at the hands of thieving officials and contractors, and all along the line of the new route is strewn cheap material bought at a figure much below the prees reckoned on by the government. The corporation, it is alleged, stands to lose a great deal of money.

BY A FLUKE.

The Cornell Crew Secured the First Heat of the Henley Regatta.

Henley, July 9.—The weather was cloudy in the early hours of the morning and it was generally feared that the principal feature of the Thames rowing would be marred by rain, but the clouds lifted about 10 o'clock and the sun shone brightly while there was a refreshing breeze all along the river. The entire length of the regatta course was lined with craft of every description, and crowds of people gathered on the banks of the river long before there was any sign of activity among the managers, committee or crew taking part in the events of the day. The enclosed grounds and grand stand on the Beecks side of the finish was packed with beautifully dressed ladies and their escorts and every accessible point along the course on both sides was jammed with enthusiastic sight-seers. Last year the attendance was enormous, but to-day's crowd eclipsed all previous gatherings. House boats were more numerous than ever, and the demand for them was so great that the most exorbitant prices were charged for their rental and paid without grumbling. The Cornell crew was the center of interest and the Argonaut rowing clubs of Toronto attracted a full share of attention.

The principal event of the day was the eight-oared race for the Grand challenge cup, which is rowed in heats, the final one being decided on the last day of the regatta. The crews entered for this race were the Leander Boat club, the holders of the cup; the Thames Rowing club, the London Rowing club; the New College (Oxford) Rowing club; the Cornell University Boat Club; Trinity Hall (Cambridge) Rowing club, and the Eton College Rowing club. The first heat was won by Trinity Hall, who beat the London Rowing club by six lengths.

The second heat was won by the Eton eight, who beat the Thames Rowing crew a length and a quarter.

Then came the heat of the greatest interest to Englishmen and Americans. The Cornell crew had drawn to contest with the eight of Leander Boat club, which won the cup last year, and were considered the strongest crew entered in the race. The wind was blowing strong off the Beecks shore, which favored the Cornells, who had drawn a position on that side. Mr. G. S. Francis, the manager of the Cornell crew, was unable to be taken on board the umpire's launch, which followed the boats over the course, as Mr. Willand, the umpire, thought she was already filled. When Mr. Willand asked: "Are you ready?" the Leanders shouted "no" but apparently Mr. Willand did not hear them, as he said "go," and the Cornells went off in good style. The umpire's launch did not follow for some time, but as the Cornells showed no signs of stopping, the launch eventually followed them down the course, while the Leanders remained at the starting point. The Cornells, after rowing at a pretty fast pace for a while, reduced their speed until their stroke was little less than paddling. They occupied 8 minutes and 11 seconds in going over the course. The Cornell boys, of whom there was a large number present, ran along the two path, cheering the men an filling the air with the Cornell cry, which was taken up by Americans occupying house boats along the course. The scene was very exciting.

In the meantime the Leander crew remained at the post, declaring that they would lodge a protest against the heat being given to Cornell. It appears that when the umpire asked if they were ready, some one in the Leander boat said "yes," whereupon the umpire gave the word, "go." Almost at the same time the stroke of the Leanders shouted "no, no." The Leanders, or part of them at least, made a faint attempt to get away as the Cornells started, but it was evident that the crew had no intention of going over the course, though for what reason, nobody can imagine.

As near as everyone could see, they were quite as ready to start as the Cornells were, though it may be true that they were not ready. Anyway, it was a very unfortunate misunderstanding to say the least. The Leanders have protested the heat and it remains to be seen whether the Cornells will be allowed to retain it or not.

New College of Oxford drew a bye for the first round and it has now been arranged that New College and Cornell shall row against one another to-morrow afternoon in the second round, while Eton rows with Trinity Hall. Cornell and New College will both be fresh and in good form. C. M. Pitman, the noted forward stroke of the last two university boat races, is the stroke of the New College crew, which may be regarded as stronger than Leander.

There was a great deal of friendly interchange of visits among the occupants of the house boats and launches.

Ambassador Bayard made brief calls on most of the house boats.

There is great rejoicing among the Americans over the Cornells' success in getting their first heat, they having backed the crew heavily.

Enormous as the attendance of spectators was, it would have been a great deal larger but for the fact that it was settling day on the stock exchange, which detained in London large numbers of brokers who are habitues of the Henley regatta.

The drawing of lots for to-morrow's heat in the grand challenge cup, resulted in the pitting of Cornell on the Beeks side of the course against Trinity Hall (Cambridge) on the Bucks side, for the fourth heat, and Eton against New College (Oxford) on respectively the Beecks and Bucks side, for the fifth.

Cornell's Victory Sustained.

Henley, July 9.—The board of stewards have decided against the protest of the Leander crew and sustained the umpire in awarding the heat in the grand challenge race to Cornell.

L. A. W. MEET.

Asbury Park is Alive with Wheelmen and Women.

DENVER GETS THE PRIZES.

The Best Appearing and the Largest Delegation—The Doings of the Day—Trouble Over the Color Line Being Drawn.

Asbury Park, N. J., July 9.—The second day of the National League of American Wheelmen meet here proves enjoyable. The weather could not have been fairer or the roads in better condition. Hundreds of cyclers from every section of the Union, Canada and even Europe, arrived with wheels and gay badges on every train; bands played welcoming "two steps" and marches, and the register of visitors at the club house of the Asbury Park Wheelmen fairly bulged out with its host of entries, while the seemingly inexhaustible supply of credential buttons waxed lower and lower in the committeemen's desks. Following close upon the Denver, Pittsburg and Harrisburg contingent which arrived yesterday, came large delegations of the Chicago Cycle clubs, Pennsylvania Time wheelmen, Century wheelmen and Press Cycle club of Philadelphia.

The only Arthur Augustus Zimmerman, looking like a typical Jersey farmer, and his side partner, Harry Wheeler, took the Denver men in tow last night, and promenaded them about town and over the beach until the travel-sore hearts of the Rocky mountain men were faint and their shoes were full of sand, but with no discouraging effect upon their irrepressible lungs and wild Western yells.

To-day the only excitements have been the run to Long Branch through the Interlaken and Elberon, by the famous surf road, the great parade and the discussion of Miss Kittie Knox's case. She is an extremely comely colored girl from Boston, who recently won the first prize in the Malden cycle parade for wearing the most tasteful and artistic woman's wheeling garb. When Miss Knox, whose appearance and dress had been objects of admiration all day, walked into the committee room at the local club house and presented her league card for a credential badge, the gentleman in charge refused to recognize the card, and the young woman withdraw very quietly. Then the discussion commenced.

Ninty-nine out of every hundred members interviewed express the heartiest sympathy for her and condemn the hasty action of the badge committee. G. A. Perkins of Boston, first vice president of the L. A. W., said to-day that he considered the refusal entirely unwarranted.

The principal thoroughfares were lined with thousands of citizens, visitors and excursionists, and the scene was one of extraordinary beauty. The Denver wheel club carried first prize for both numbers and appearance, parading 54 men and women, all attired in spotless white linen suits and yachting caps. Second prize went to the Keystone wheelmen of Philadelphia, and the third to Mercer county wheelmen of Trenton.

The great parade was reviewed at the league headquarters in the Ocean hotel by officers and members of the league, who acted as judges to award the prizes for the clubs parading—the largest delegation and the organization making the finest appearance.

ALL HOPING.

Ten Candidates for the Iowa Republican Gubernatorial Nomination.

Des Moines, Ia., July 9.—The Republican convention will be called to order at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning in Calvary Tabernacle, a structure which will hold 3,500 people, but will not begin to hold all who will seek admission. Practically the full number of delegates, 1,244, will be present. The number required to nominate is 623. The only contest will be over the nomination for Governor, for which there are 10 candidates, at least seven of whom are professing to-night to expect the honor and the other three will not admit that they are without hope. The platform will be adopted without a contest of any sort. It is now generally expected that it will be short and in no way radical. State issues will be dwelt upon briefly, but the liquor question will not be touched upon. Two years ago the party adopted the policy of considering this question out of politics and will continue it. The Minneapolis platform of 1892 will be reaffirmed as to national issues. This course will be adopted as being best adopted to further the candidacy of Senator Allison, who is here but taking no part, for the presidency.

Gen. T. M. Drake of Centerville, and ex-United States Senator James F. Harlan of Mt. Pleasant, are the two leading candidates for Governor, and the hopes of the others rest upon the assumption that the lines will be so strongly drawn between these two that neither can be nominated. Gen. Drake has the most votes for the first ballot, and his forces are the best organized. Senator Harlan's friends depend upon his popularity based on his past services to make him a general second choice. Between these two it is a question of organization versus enthusiasm. There is a little betting being done to-night and Drake is the favorite. The personal fight on Gen. Drake has been abandoned, what is considered a full vindication having been published, and all the other candidates having disavowed the attack.

The claims of the candidates for Governor to-night as to their votes on the first ballot are as follows: Drake, 400; Harlan, 300; Matt Parrott, 200; W. W. McFarland, 200; J. B. Harsh, 150; E. S. Ormsby, 150; J. L. Kamerr, 50; F. C. Letts and A. B. Conway each their home county, and W. S. Russell, none, as he is not even indorsed at home, although he keeps open headquarters and insists on being classed as a full fledged candidate. In case of a protracted struggle the men with few votes at the beginning count themselves in as good shape to win as those with many.

It is thought that the renomination of Lieutenant Governor Dungon, State Superintendent Sabin, Railroad Commissioner Perkins and Supreme Judge Given, will be easy, although Messrs. Sabin and Given will have opposition. J. R. Lane of Davenport will be temporary chairman.

The second congressional district delegates held a caucus to-night and passed a resolution favoring a law permitting the manufacture of liquors in the State which is now prohibited, although the sale is legalized under conditions. The Second district is strongly anti-prohibition, Davenport being its largest city. This action, if carried out to-morrow, will precipitate a contest and open up the entire liquor question, which at a conference of candidates and party leaders to-day, it was agreed to ignore. An attempt will be made to have the Second district resolution shelved in the committee on resolutions of which ex-Senator G. G. Wright of Des Moines, a "liberal" on the liquor question, will probably be chairman.

A LIVERY STABLE FIRE.

Many Fine Horses and Rigs Destroyed—One Life Lost.

Detroit, July 10.—At 1:05 a. m. a fire broke out in Case's livery stable, the finest establishment of its kind in the city, situated on Congress street, between Griswold and Shelby street. There were 155 horses and a large number of handsome vehicles in the building. Only 25 of the animals have been rescued. There were about 40 stockmen stopping in the building, but it is said all have escaped except a man named Cummings, who jumped from a third-story window and was killed. The fire is not yet under control. It is not possible at this hour to make any estimate of the loss, but it will likely be total.

READY TO FIGHT.

An Outbreak of Trouble Expected in the Coeur d'Alene.

Spokane, Wash., July 9.—Under instructions from Governor McConnell of Idaho, Adjt. Gen. Caldwell proceeded to-day with 80 stacks of arms and 5,000 rounds of ammunition to the Couer d'Alene region, where he will recruit and equip a company of militia from the miners of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mines in anticipation of an outbreak similar to the bloody riots of three years ago. The present trouble is expected from the fact that the above mentioned mines recently resumed operations with men regardless as to whether they belonged to the union or not, and the Canyon Creek union have openly threatened that they intend closing the mines if they have to kill or run every scab out of the country.

The Advance Guard of the Great Gathering Arriving in Boston.

Boston, July 9.—What might be called the spray thrown in advance of the great wave of the Christian Endeavorers struck Boston to-day in the shape of detached delegates who came in by the regular trains. Among the stragglers was a party of nearly 200 Nebraskans who reached the union station this forenoon. Most of the Endeavorers, however, came in singly or in groups of two or three, and they kept the reception committee on the jump for few of them know anything about the city or where they were to go. Three hundred Michigan delegates reached the Albany station shortly after noon. On the Chicago special which was due at the Albany station at 3 o'clock, there were about 50 delegates, chiefly from Chicago. The Chicago and Cincinnati express which arrived at 9:45 last evening brought more than 50 delegates from Michigan and Pennsylvania. On the 10:20 train from the West yesterday morning five Idaho delegates arrived and were directed to the Clarendon street church, which is to be their headquarters. There was also a small party from Indiana, but they proceeded immediately to Newton, where they were to be entertained by personal friends. Three Illinois delegates also came on this train.

As the visitors enter the city they cannot fail to be delighted at the beautiful decorations of the stations. In one or two cases, these approach the superb, the national colors intermingled finely with the crimson and white—the Christian Endeavor colors. Upon many of the buildings and the homes of Boston's thrifty and enterprising are seen outward decorations which have never been surpassed in elaborate arrangements upon important political occasions or national holidays. From roof to sidewalk of these buildings are hung with the red and white, while mottoes and inscriptions bid the visitors welcome. In the windows of the shops throughout the city, the presence of visitors in recognized both in decorations and in the arrangement of goods displayed for sale. The decorative effect in these windows is exquisite in the extreme.

Salina, Kas., Under Water.

Salina, Kan., July 9.—The portion of the city east of the Smoky river, containing a resident population of 1,200, is under water. Hundreds of families have vacated their homes and hundreds of others are unable to leave except in boats. The river has been rising steadily for three days, and although it has reached the highest point known in history, it is still rapidly increasing. The situation to-night is the most serious in the history of Salina. A foot more water will cover the first floor of 500 houses. The flooded district is being patrolled by men in boats and endangered families are being constantly rescued.

A Kansas Waterspout.

Leoti, Kan., July 9.—A waterspout passed over here during the storm Sunday and demolished the homes of Mrs. Heinrich and Peter Leowen. Its course was southeasterly. It destroyed 28 windmills and 24 barns and granaries. It passed near the big Mennomite church, a few miles from Leoti, and destroyed the buggies and wagons of those attending church.

China's Troubles.

London, July 9.—The Morning Post tomorrow will print a dispatch from Pekin saying that it is stated there that China agreed to the Russian loan under the threat that Liao Tung peninsula would be restored to Japan if she failed to agree. The Chinese government decided to pay the war indemnity immediately, so as to save interest and the expenses of Japanese occupation, but this course was found to be impracticable, Russia insisting that no fresh loan should be negotiated within six months.

KENTUCKY FIENDS.

An Inoffensive Old Man and His Son Killed.

NO REASON FOR THE DEED.

A Posse in Pursuit of the Perpetrators and If They are Overtaken there Will be a Bloody Battle—Popular Indignation.

Cincinnati, July 9.—A special to The Tribune from Princeton, Ky., says: A posse composed of indignant Lewiston citizens, armed with revolvers and rifles, has started in pursuit of the murderers of Joseph Howton and his son, Hewlett. The mob which killed father and son, was made up of at least 15 men and should the posse catch up with them there will be a desperate battle.

The mob, all the members of which were masked, went to the Howton residence at Lewiston, eight miles from here, shortly before midnight last night. The men held a short consultation and just as the clock struck 12, one of the mob knocked on the door and asked to see Hewlett Howton. He came to the door and after talking a minute or two on some personal matter, he was seized by two others. They pulled him outside and asked him to go with them to the barn. He refused, and one of the miscreants shot him through the body. Then they dragged him to the gate and shot him several times. One man had stood guard at the door and after they had finished Hewlett, the gang went back to the house. The white-haired father begged that they spare his life and the lives of his family, but his entreaties were unheeded and they made him back up into a corner so they could shoot him without danger to his wife and daughters. The leader deliberately counted 10 and then five of the men fired at the old man. One ball struck him in the wrist, another in the abdomen and a third in the groin.

The men then left the house, taking with them a boy who worked on Howton's farm. They carried him to a vacant building and tied him to a tree, telling him they would kill him if he attempted to escape before daylight. A man named Brashears was sent half an hour after the shooting for one of the neighbors, who lived half a mile away. He was stopped by a man on horseback and made to go back home. The old man was not dead, and another hand was sent for a doctor by another road. This was also guarded and the man was turned back.

It was given out that no one must leave the Howton place again before daylight under penalty of death. As a result it was eight hours before any of the neighbors knew of the mob's awful work.

There is no theory as to the cause of the mob's action. The Howtons were quiet, inoffensive people and stood well in the community. They were noted as good neighbors and did not have a known enemy. John Howton, the eldest son, was a blacksmith. He was a member of a very bad gang which was broken up last winter, when he was sent to the penitentiary, but his father and brother had nothing to do with his misdeeds and even refused to shield him when they could have done so.

REAR END CRASH.

Canadians on a Religious Pilgrimage Meet Death and Disaster.

Craigs Road, Quebec, July 9.—In the early hours this morning there occurred an accident on the Grand Trunk road at the station here that has seldom been excelled in horror by any similar event in Canadian annals.

A special excursion passenger train, rushing along in the darkness, crashed into another train of the same kind preceding it and killed 13 people and wounded 50.

The trains that came in collision were special excursion trains filled with pilgrims from Sherbrooke, Richmond and Windsor Mills to Levis, where they were to cross over to Quebec and proceed to the Shrine of Ste. Anne de Baupre, and were following one another with an interval of 20 minutes. The forward train was making good time, having left Richmond at 10 o'clock the night before. On the rear of this train was a Pullman in which were the priests and others in charge of the party and it was in this car that most of the loss of life occurred. The first train reached this station, 14 miles west of Levis, about 3 o'clock and stopped at the tank to take water. The precautions were taken and the semaphore thrown to "danger" against the following train. Only the trainmen were out and about attending to their duties. The Pullman in the rear was in silence and the sleepers were unaware of the terrible fate that was rushing upon them. Suddenly there was a great crash—the second train coming at full speed dashed into the rear Pullman of the first section.

So great was the impetus of the colliding train that the engine embedded itself in the Palace car and the latter plunged forward and partially telescoped the first class car immediately in front. Every berth in the Pullman was wrecked, and some of the occupants were killed and never knew what had happened to them. They died sleeping. Others awoke to their horrible surroundings and position maimed, bleeding and bruised, conscious of little else but the agony that racked them. It was an awful scene. The cries of the wounded and the groans of the dying and the outpouring of passengers from cars that were not badly damaged and the hurrying forms of the uninjured trainmen with their flickering lanterns, all combined to make a sight seldom exceeded in tragic horrors.

The work of rescue was begun as soon as possible. When the blinding clouds had subsided, the trainmen, priests and others got together and the dead and wounded were taken from the ruins of the Pullman and the first-class car and removed to temporary quarters, where the women in the party attended as best they could to the wants of the maimed pilgrims. They tore off their underclothing and made bandages for gaping wounds and tried in the absence of enough medical aid to go round, to staunch the flood of blood and properly cleanse the wounds. Word was at once sent to Montreal and an order from there was sent to Levis to send a force of men to clear the track. The special train reached here at an early hour and all of the wounded that could be moved were placed on board and sent to Levis, where they could be cared for in hospitals.

It is hard to say where the blame for the accident rests. It has been suggested that Engineer Mefaud might have dozed off to sleep and thus having missed seeing the warning light and was unconscious of his whereabouts. Indeed this would seem to be the only theory that can be advanced, but a strict investigation will be held at once to determine where the responsibility rests.

A BULL FIGHT.

Cripple Creek is Arranging for a Strange Spectacle.

Special to The Gazette.

Cripple Creek, July 9.—The little town of Gillette is likely to become prominent or at least notorious in the next few months. The citizens are arranging to give an exhibition that will be unlike anything ever seen in this country before. It is nothing more or less than a Spanish bull fight. A series of exhibitions will be given for several days. One day there will be races, the next a Wild West show by a company now exhibiting in Texas and still another will be devoted to the bull fight. A big amphitheater will be built covering 10 feet square of ground. Some $10,000 are to be spent in preparation. Some famous bull fighters are to be brought from Mexico to participate. It is thought that an enormous crowd can be brought there in that way, and that perhaps the authorities can be evaded if they try to interfere.

A TRAGIC DEATH.

The Dead Chicago Highwayman Wanted the Money for His Wife.

Chicago, July 9.—The well-dressed robber supposed to have been C. E. Cole, who was shot and killed outside the Auditorium last night by Detective Rosenthal, after he held up a saloonkeeper named McGloin, and wounded two men on the streets, was identified to-night as Charles Gorman, a bartender, who came here three weeks ago from New York, where he had worked at 1250 Broadway. He was out of employment, and was living with C. E. Cole, also a bartender, at the Somerset house, Twelfth street and Wabash avenue. Last Sunday he received word from his home in St. Paul that his child was dead, and his wife was dependent on the charity of friends. He was offered $6 at a pawnshop for his revolver, but he needed $3 more to get to St. Paul to see his child buried, and it was in the effort to get the money by crime that he met his death.

BASE BALL

Cincinnati-Brooklyn.

Cincinnati, July 9.—Brooklyn-Cincinnati played two games this afternoon, the home team winning both. In the first game it took 12 innings for the Reds to win. Not a run was earned by the locals in the second game, and they were outbatted two to one. Attendance 6,000.

First game:

Cincinnati	....	.0	0	0	0	0	0	4	1	0	0	1	0	6

Brooklyn	....	1	0	3	2	0	0	0	0	0	6

St. Louis-Baltimore.

St. Louis, July 9.—The Browns won the majority of games from the Champions in a 13 inning contest. Clarkson was hit freely and retired after the third inning. Breitenstein showed why all the clubs were offering gilt-edge prices for him. The game was the most exciting ever seen on the grounds. Attendance 3,000.

St. Louis	.....	1	1	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2		7
Baltimore	..	.0	2	0	1	0	0	0	0	1	0	0		4

Chicago-New York.

Chicago, July 9.—New York won today's game by a base on balls to Fuller in the third inning, who scored on Lange's error. Attendance 6,000.

Cleveland-Philadelphia.

Cleveland, July 9.—The Clevelands won in a walk from Philadelphia to-day. Buckley threw wild to second base three times and Taylor gave seven men bases on balls. Attendance 1,000.

Cleveland	..	1	2	2	1	0	0	2	1	*	9
Philadelphia	..	2	0	0	1	0	0	1	0	0	4

Pittsburg-Boston.

Pittsburg, July 9.—Not a run was scored by either side till the ninth inning of the first Boston game to-day, and the finish was exciting. Then Nash made a triple which virtually won the game.

The second game was close and exciting throughout. Hawley pitched a great game, but was given wretched support. Pittsburg won in the tenth inning by hitting Nichols for three singles. Attendance 4,800.

First game:

A Message from Gladstone.

London, July 9.—The Westminster Gazette a few days ago asked Mr. Gladstone to write a message to the people to be displayed upon magic lantern slides, together with cartoons and election news at the National Liberal club.

Mr. Gladstone complied with their request by sending the following: "Hawarden, July 5.—Above all other present purposes, vindicate the rights of the House of Commons as the organ of the nation and establish the honor of England as well as consolidate the strength of the empire, by conceding the just and constitutional claims of Ireland."

A Gay Young Man.

Tacoma, Wash., July 9.—A special to The Morning Union from Hope, Idaho, says Leonard Osborne, a society young man of Chicago has been arrested there for stealing $500 worth of diamonds, jewelry and heirlooms from E. M. Hurt and wife, leading society people of Tacoma. Osborne stayed with the Hunts two weeks and disappeared simultaneously with the stolen goods.

MANITOU NOTES.

Mr. John Savage of Kansas City is at the St. Elmo.

William A. Heren of St. Louis is at the Iron Springs hotel.

E. M. Christian of Minneapolis, Minn., is at the Manitou hotel.

Mrs. J. W. Fuller of St. Paul, Minn., is a guest at the Mansions.

Mr. William D. Mitchell of St. Paul is a guest at the Iron Springs hotel.

Dr. H. B. Cummings and party of six from Seward, Neb., are at the Graham.

E. S. George of Detroit, Mich., is among the late arrivals at the Iron Springs hotel.

Mr. James P. Conway of St. Mary's Kan., and party of three are at the Graham.

E. B. and A. H. Prettyman of Baltimore are stopping at the Iron Springs hotel.

E. P. Jennings of Ironwood, Mich., is among yesterday's arrivals at the Manitou hotel.

Mrs. B. H. Brownell and Miss Pearl B. Ackerman of St. Louis, are stopping at the Manitou hotel.

Mr. Robert Iwen and family of Muscogee, Ind., have arrived at the Mansions. They will remain all summer.

Mr. H. S. Cable of the Cog road has arranged for two moonlight trains to go to the summit of the Peak on Wednesday and Thursday, July 10 and 11. The trip is one that is not often offered to the public, and there is no doubt but that many will take advantage of this opportunity to view the world in lunar grandeur.

Temperance Facts.

By the courtesy of Rev. W. H. W. Boyle I here quote some of the "Facts" given in his sermon on "The Idolotary of Appetite:"

"The enormous total of $1,263,770,000 in a single year is spent for gratification of depraved appetite. Enough it is estimated to build 200,000 houses and furnish them, give $1,600 a year to every Christian minister in the land and put $5 00 into the hand of every person of the sixty-five millions of our land."

Our nation's drink bill is greater than the expenditure in this country for the support of our army and navy, for the cause of education and reform, for the execution of justice and the payment of pensions all included.

"Each year 70,000 strong go down to dishonored graves from the ravages of strong drink."

"Loss in men and loss in money, loss in the productive forces of the nation, and other losses that cannot be tabulated, in ruined homes and blighted hopes and broken hearts; yet 19,000,000 of Christian ministers seem palsied and powerless, in the presence of the organized oligarchy of Satan that causes the loss."

Four questions were sent to the officials of forty-five penitentiaries, prisons reformatories, of the United States and forty-five answers were received.

The first question was this: "About what proportion of the prisoners in your institution have been drinking men?" And the first ten answered in order came thus: "All of them," "nearly all," "ten-eleventhe, nine-tenths,— seven-eighths, four-fifths, 85 per cent., 70 per cent., 65 per cent., and 251 persons out of 300."

In answer to the second question it was stated that something over 90 per cent. were prisoners directly or indirectly by strong drink, and from the Kentucky penitentiary came this answer: "We can safely say 99-100ths."

Forty-three of the forty-five institutions answered the third question, that a very large majority of the crimes of violence could be traced directly to the influence of the saloon.

The answers to the fourth question from Maine and Montana would cover the ground, as the probable effect on our penal institutions if every saloon in the land were abolished forever. Montana replied: "One would do for the United States," and Maine replied that "Pauperism would almost disappear, reform schools would be vacant and poor-houses unknown." For thirty-five years," says Cardinal Manning, "I have been a priest in London, and though I have known men and women to be destroyed by all manner of evils, yet there is no evil that effects mankind with such universality of steady power as intoxicating drink."

"During forty years of experience on the bench in the State of Massachusetts," writes Judge B , I have never known a single case in which the interests of a liquor dealer were in any involved where the witnesses for cause would not perjure themselves to gain their end."

"No more scathing denunciation of this traffic in souls, was ever spoken than that of Judge Hubbard, when passing sentence on three convicted rum-sellers some time ago: 'You stand before this court for sentence,' he said, 'and if not in the letter of the law, you are in spirit, guilty of man-slaughter. The law says, 'whosoever accelerates the death of a human being is guilty of the crime,' and the presence of those bloated victims in the witness stand, is positive proof that you not only accelerate death, but that you induce them to commit still greater crimes than your own. The ruin, the poverty, the idleness, which you are inflicting on this community, declare from the house tops that you are eating the bread of helpless orphans, watered with the tears of widows whose husbands you have slain. You are converting happy and industrious homes into misery, poverty, and rags. Anxious mothers watch and pray nightly with desolate hearts for the coming home of their boys, whom with the smile of the devil, you are luring for gain to debauchery and death.'"

"When we remember that this liquor traffic depends upon cradled innocence to support in the future; when we remember that it looks upon minors as its legitimate prey, and that 70,000 of our boys are drafted into its dark ranks of ruin each year, to take the place of 70,000 who have fallen victims, we feel like borrowing the thunder bolts of heaven and slaying the adversary forever and ever."

Could our city, county, State, and nation, have more sermons, like the one from which the above extracts were taken, preached with the power of enthusiasm and the spirit of the Master in the preacher's heart, coming from the 100,000 pulpits in our land, we might look much more hopefully to the happy time when there will be no more drunkenness.

THE ENDEAVORERS.

Of the two great national conventions now in session, the one which is nearest naturally occupies the most of our attention; but the meeting of the Christian Endeavor society at Boston is as important to all parts of the country as the meeting of the National Educational Association here, and there are so many Endeavorers here that the proceedings of the Boston meeting will be followed with great interest, we are sure, by a large number of our readers.

It is the business of a newspaper to give the news, of whatever kind, but it is pleasant to be able to give reports of great philanthropic and Christian movements, when they come, rather than the ordinary details of crimes and accidents. There is lots of good in the world, but it is not always that it comes to the front in such a way as to make news. The convention of the Endeavorers has become now a regular feature of the summer, and the United Press always devotes especial attention to gatherings of that sort, so that we shall have a fairly full report of the proceedings at Boston.

The growth of the Christian Endeavor movement has become an old story, so that there is no need to recount it. The society has increased wonderfully in numbers, notwithstanding the separation of several denominations which have deemed it wise to take charge of their own work among their young people. It has its branches in almost every town and village in the country. No Endeavorer need remain without friends, wherever he may go; and this is one of the pleasant features of the national organization. It really does a great deal toward making brethren of its members in different parts of the country, and certainly that is a worthy object, and one strictly in consonance with the doctrine and the practice of Christianity.

The particular feature of the Endeavor movement which is attracting especial attention this year, because it is the newest feature, is the political department. The aim of this, of course, is not to make partisans, but to encourage the members of the society to take an interest in public affairs. There will be a temptation, naturally, to solidify the organization so as to have its members vote together on all questions which seem to have a moral side to them; but we hope the leaders of the organization will be wise enough to keep out of politics, in the partisan sense of the word, and not to turn the organization into an ordinary political club, whose vote must be bid for by conventions and platforms, as in some States the German vote, or the Irish vote, or the Scandinavian vote, is bid for. The Endeavorers ought rather to affiliate with existing parties, and try to leaven them with Christian sentiment. Their influence should be felt at the primaries of all the parties, in procuring the nomination of fit candidates, and the enunciation of good principles. We suppose a man may be a Christian and belong to any one of the political parties now in existence. His Christianity ought to teach him that his friend and brother may differ with him in politics, and still be just as sincere and just as earnest for the promotion of Christian principles, as he himself is. The infusion of Christian sentiment into politics should certainly lead to a larger charity, to the discussion of principles rather than of personalities, and to a cheerful acquiescence in the will of the majority for the time being, when that will has been fully and fairly expressed.

If the political department of the Christian Endeavor society is wisely managed, therefore, we do not see how anything but good can come out of it; but the management will have to be eminently careful in order not to turn the organization into a political machine.

The main object of the Endeavor movement, however, is spiritual, and its members are not likely to forget that. That they will gain new enthusiasm and new courage from their great national convention is to be expected, and we have no doubt that the present meeting will be one of the most successful and profitable in the history of the society.

The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger has found out that there is not a dry dock belonging to the United States which is big enough to accommodate one of our new battle ships. In consequence of the defect, the two ships of this class now afloat will have to use the dry dock at Halifax when it becomes necessary to clean them, and we should be dependent upon the kindness of the British government for permission to use its property. This is not an agreeable state of affairs, for complications might very easily arise which would make the use of the dry dock at Halifax impossible; and besides that, we do not want to be beholden to the British government every time this country needs to clean the bottom of one of its big ships. The next congress ought to pass a bill providing for the enlargement of one or more of the docks at the existing navy yards to the required size. There is no need to build new docks, for the old ones can be altered to the proper size at a comparatively small expense.

Mr. Gladstone's letter to his constituents in Midlothian seems to be generally regarded as a definite withdrawal of the great leader from active politics. We are so accustomed to having political leaders withdraw on paper that we are apt to take their declarations with a grain of salt; but there seems no reason in this case to doubt the absolute sincerity of the writer. The effect of his letter remains to be seen. The natural inference is that it will weaken the Liberal party. They cannot use his name to conjure with to any great extent when he is altogether out of the field, and it is not expected that he will take the stump for his former colleagues. What influence he may have off the stump may be exerted for them, but that will perhaps not be very great.

The Japanese are going to build some new vessels of war, and there is a possibility that an American firm, the Cramps, may succeed in obtaining the contract for at least one of the vessels. Thanks to the wise action of the Fifty-first congress, our shipbuilders can now turn out vessels as good as anything in the world. We hope the Cramps may obtain the contract, for if they do it will be a notice to all the world that this country is a competitor in a very important industry, and one in which hitherto the supremacy of the British has been practically unchallenged.

The sentence of A. W. Van Houten for the murder of Richard Newell last fall is eminently just, and we do not fear that anything can be done by the attorneys for the prisoner to prevent the execution of it. It is an awful thing to hang a man, but it is a much more awful thing to allow a red-handed murderer to avoid the punishment due to his crime. It is only by the execution of the sentence of the law that civilization is possible, and the more quickly and surely the law is vindicated, the safer human life will be in this State.

The talk about the Republican league "dodging" the silver question has about subsided. The league simply did what it always ought to have done in refusing to attempt to become the mouthpiece of the Republican party or the dictator of its policy. Perhaps the Rocky Mountain News will allege that the National Educational Association has "dodged" if it does not also pass resolutions in favor of the free and unlimited at 16 to 1.

It is gratifying to note that in Iowa an attempt at mud-slinging against one of the candidates for the nomination for Governor has reacted, and is likely to produce the opposite effect from that which was intended. After the experience of the last campaign, Iowans ought to know that mud-slinging does not succeed.

THE SUMMER SCHOOL.

Department of Science.
Kindergarten.

It was due to the Kindergarten association of this city that the Summer School presents an especially strong course in this department. The management determined at the outset to secure one of the best, if not the best, kindergarten teacher in the United States. After due deliberation they decided upon Miss Mary C. McCulloch, normal instructor and supervisor of public kindergartens, St. Louis, as one who filled the bill, went after her, and got her. St. Louis was probably the first city in the United States to make the kindergarten a part of her public school system, and whatever may have been said of her school system as a whole, naught but praise has ever been uttered regarding the kindergarten department. Miss McCulloch has attained a national recognition in her department, as is evinced by the fact that she is vice-president of the department of kindergarten education of the National Educational association.

The work of the kindergarten department will include a presentation of the principles emphasized in Froebel's system, accompanied by exercises illustrating their practical application to meet the needs of kindergarten and primary teachers.

The aim will be to give an insight into the characteristics of child-life, based on a study of Froebel's Mother Play, and to indicate how the kindergarten material may be used as an educational means.

The course will extend through four weeks; the daily session will have three periods.

1. (a.)—Informal talks—
Aim and method of the Mother Play.
The Kindergarten an Organic Whole.
Objects of Gifts.
Typical Forms.
Building Gifts.
Connections of Gifts and Occupations.
Stories.
Morning Talks.
How to make Programmes.
Moral Control of Children.
Application of Kindergarten Principles to Primary Work.
2. (b)—Illustrative Exercises—
Gifts and Modeling.
Development of Ideas of Form, Color, Size, Direction and Position.
2. Songs, Games, or Story.
3. An opportunity will be given members of the class to ask and have answered, questions relating to work.

It is to be hoped that the strong kindergarten sentiment of the city will unite with Miss McCulloch to make this session a memorable one in the kindergarten history of the West.

Democratic Political Economy.

To the Editor of The Press.

Sir—Fireworks are exceedingly cheap this year, and Free Traders account for the wonderful cut in prices by attributing it to the "reform Wilson bill." Here is a suggestion which shows how the thing works and it is taken from life.

Free Trader—Ah! I see that fireworks are very much reduced in price just about one-half of what they were a year ago. That shows the benefits of the Wilson bill.

Dealer (who happened to be a confidential friend of F. T.)—You are off. Last year, owing to the extreme financial stringency, less than half of the cracker stock was sold. The result is that we have an immense quantity of last's year's stock on hand, which we are disposing of at about half prices.

Free Trader—Doesn't make any difference. The prices were brought down on account of the new tariff laws, weren't they?

Dealer—I'll admit it. Of course, the stock is somewhat deteriorated and all the crackers won't go off. The fulminating powder is a little weak, but then we must save ourselves.

SEQUENCES.

1. Low tariff makes financial stringency.
2. People can't buy as much as usual.
3. Manufacturers can keep stock longer on hand and carry it from year to year.
4. Stock having deteriorated in value, they are compelled to sell it cheaper.

Moral Cheap tariffs make cheap goods—very cheap goods.

—J. S. Z. in New York Press.

Five Drowned while Boating.

Bath, N. Y., July 9.—A drowning accident occurred just off Bluff point on Lake Keuka to-day in which five persons lost their lives. Terry Tutt, with his wife and three children, left Gibbons' Landing in a small boat to cross the lake. A strong wind capsized the boat and the whole party were drowned.

An Exile's Return.

San Francisco, July 9.—Among the passengers who sailed for Hawaii on the steamer Australia this afternoon was Henry Juen, an exile from Honolulu, who by permission of the Dole government is permitted to visit his children, who reside in Honolulu.

STILL THEY COME.

The N. E. A. Visitors are Filling Up the Town.

The streets did not show the strangers within our gates so much yesterday because the weather was abominable and partly because a majority have gone to Denver to the convention. The place is full of strangers, however, and the public houses of entertainment are full. Tomorrow we will catch them, and the next day. The excursion or something is filling up the town with people. There is hardly a house to be rented in the city. The real estate men are falling over one another in their efforts to find suitable houses for those who want them. There is hardly a large house to be had in the city and as prominent a firm as that of A. L. Lawton admitted last evening that they have but two or three very small houses on their lists. The same firm stated that most of the houses rented are to people who have taken them for a year or six months. It looks as if some houses for rent will have to be hurried up by fall by some one.

At the stamping office 275 tickets have been handed in and stamped. They have handled about 500 tickets all told but not all of these have been left. They expect to stamp at least 1000 before the 15th of the month.

A sign has been put out at the Chamber of Commerce directing the travelers to stop there and the place is crowded all day. If there are any business men who have no use for the Chamber of Commerce and to keep from contributing a cent have professed to sneer at its work in the past, then let them look in and see what is being done. It is worth a good deal more to have such a place ready to attend to crowds that come than the cost of it, many times over.

THE GOULD PARTY.

Spent the Day in the City Yesterday—Now in Pueblo.

At an early hour yesterday a special train on the Ft. Worth road brought the Gould party to the city. They spent the day in sight-seeing, that is in seeing everything that could be seen through the fog and mist. One or two members went on the Peak and the others visited the Garden of the Gods, Manitou, etc. The party consists of the following: Miss Helen Gould, Frank Jay Gould, Colonel and Mrs. Frank K. Hain, vice-president and general manager of the Manhattan Elevated; Miss Ida J. Caste and Miss Alice Northrop of Tarrytown, N. Y., and Mr. Will Northrop of Yonkers, N. Y. The party is in charge of General Manager W. B. Doddridge of the Missouri Pacific road, who is accompanied by his private secretary, Mr. Harry S. Turner.

The train is made up of George Gould's private car, Atlanta, Mr. Doddridge's car, Convoy, a commissary car which is perfect in its appointments as a kitchen, and engine 254, one of the fastest belonging to the Missouri Pacific.

Miss Gould is taking the party out for a little outing. They left last evening for Pueblo, where the night was spent. Today they will return to St. Louis. Miss Gould is a very attractive looking young lady who wore a dark traveling dress. Frank Gould is a rather tall lad of 18 years.

It is a new trip to many in the party and they are enjoying it very much. Miss Gould has often been here with her father in years past.

District Court.

In the first division yesterday in the case of Evans vs. Griffith, motion to require that the allegations in the complaint be made more specific, was granted.

A night session was held and the motion for a new trial for Robert J. Lyons was argued. Mr. Patterson made the argument for the defendant and bases his motion for a new trial on error in the instructions and a defect in the indictment because of the ownership of the Strong mine. Mr. McAllister and a representative from Mr. Goudy's office in Denver appeared for the State.

In the second division the entire day was again taken up with the testimony in the case of Michael Finnerty vs. J. E. Clark, an adverse suit. A night session was also held in that division.

Vesper Services.

Beginning next Sunday, July 14, there will be a change in the services of the First Congregational Church. The regular evening preaching will be given up, for the present, and in its place vesper services will be held at half past four o'clock.

The service next Sunday will be in the nature of a welcome to the Summer School visitors, President Slocum preaching the sermon. The success of the vesper services at the college during the past term has demonstrated the need of an afternoon service of this nature, as it will accommodate many who are unable to attend at any other time.

Special music will be a feature and a cordial invitation is extended to all

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The Y. M. C. A. of the city is visited by a great number of stranger young men now-a-days. The record for the month of June was 155, each one of whom were given information as they desired and assisted in finding desirable boarding places, etc. All young men are cordially invited to make the association rooms their headquarters while here.

In almost every Y. M. C. A. paper that is published are recorded the splendid gifts that are being given by wealthy men and women to the associations in various cities. Our local association is in need of $500 this month and friends who are contemplating giving this year are asked to bear this in mind.

Can You Name the Seven Wonders?

How many people can name, without referring to the encyclopedia, the seven wonders of the world? To save your looking them up here they are: The Egyptian Pyramids, the Mausoleum, erected by Artimesia; Pharos, or the watch tower of Alexandria; the Temple of Diana at Ephesus; the statue of the Olympian Jupiter; the walls and hanging gardens of Babylon, and the Colossus of Rhodes. Of course you do not have to be told that the eighth wonder is the Great Wallace Shows.

"Tar and Tarter" was given at the opera house last evening by the Pyke Opera company. If the company was a Pyke, the audience were suckers. The opera is undoubtedly very funny and quite musical but not as the Pykes give it. Some of the comedy work was not bad, but the singing was wretched and the costumes were cheap and tawdry. The chorus looked as if it had been recruited in a Denver intelligence office.

Mr. Roy R. McLain of this city and Miss Etha Van Vorhees of Martinsburg, O., were quietly married last night at 8 o'clock in the presence of a few friends and relatives. The ceremony occurred at the home of the groom's parents, 120 North Wabasatch avenue, Rev. W. H. W. Boyle of the First Presbyterian Church officiating.

Deputy Sheriff Bob Bramlett took A. W. Van Houten to Canon City yesterday for execution. They left on the morning train on the Denver and Rio Grande, the prisoner bein securely ironed to the deputy. Van Houten took the matter coolly and said that he had always had plenty of nerve and did not expect it to go back on him now. He bade the prisoners and the jailors good-by quite calmly. He would talk very little excepting to repeat some of his talk to the effect that he could not expect justice in this town because he is a poor man and the people here have no use for the poor.

There will be an excursion from Manitou and this city to the Royal Gorge and the Grand Canon of the Arkansas, next Tuesday, July 16. The fare for the round trip will be only $3.25. The train will leave Manitou at 8 o'clock and this city at 8.15; returning at 7. This will give a splendid opportunity for the teachers and other tourists to see one of the marvels of Colorado at a very low cost.

A party of the Rocky Mountain Tenting Tour association is now in camp at Dorchester park in the southern part of the city. The association is organized for the purpose of forming parties to camp in the mountains, and especially invalids. At the head of it is Mr. Frank Brendamour, for 10 years instructor of physical culture in the Cincinnati gymnasium.

For the excursion to Cripple Creek and Victor on Saturday, July 13, the Colorado Midland have made special arrangements with the management of the Summer School to make the tickets good returning on the following day on any regular train. The train will leave the Santa Fe depot Saturday morning at 7:45. Round trip, to Victor, $2.50.

The following marriage licenses were issued yesterday: Roy R. McLain of this city and Etha Van Voorhis of Martinsburg, O.; F. C. Greathead and Miss N. E. Wilcox, both of Cripple Creek; Charles R. Syrie and Ella Davidson, both of Monument; Ralph A. Cowgill and Margaret Thomas, both of this city.

The Manitou and Pike's Peak road will run two moonlight excursions to the summit to-night and to-morrow night, the trains leaving Manitou at 7 o'clock. These moonlight excursions present views from the summit that are entirely different from daylight and the experience is one to be long remembered.

The Ladies' Guild of the Independent Spiritual Church meets at 705 North Nevada avenue this evening. Sewing class at 2; hygienic cooking in theory (and demonstrated) at 3; vegetarian supper from 6 to 7; music and spiritual exercises in the evening.

The colored people are to have another excursion to this city on the 13th. They are coming from Denver and Pueblo. They had such a good time here last time that they are all anxious to come again. A ball game is to be played that day.

There will be a mothers' meeting at the W. C. T. U. home this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Subject, "Hygienic Living." All are invited.

A man named Humphrey Mitchell was brought to the county jail last evening from Manitou, charged with cruelty to his little child. There is said to be a woman in the case.

Deputy Sheriff Bramlett came back from Canon at 11 o'clock last evening. He says that he had no trouble with Van Houten and that he never lost his nerve for a moment.

Mr. Paton A. Parks, a prominent attorney of Clinton, Mo., is spending a few days with Captain and Mrs. Gathright, on his way home from a California trip.

Crop Condition Reports.

Chicago, July 9.—The reports as to the condition of crops throughout the country and the general influence of the weather on cultivation, growth and harvest, were to-day made by the different State weather services.

The synopsis of the reports telegraphed to Chicago are as follows:

The temperature conditions of the week have been generally favorable throughout the country. Corn has made very rapid growth during the week and except in Michigan, the general outlook for this crop is excellent. Arkansas reports the largest crop in years, and in Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois and Missouri, the outlook is most promising. The general outlook for spring wheat continues most flattering. Winter wheat harvest is practically completed and threshing continues general.

Alabama.

"Alabama," Augustus Thomas's idyllic story of Southern life, will be presented at the Opera house Friday evening. Mr. Thomas's play is now in the fourth year of its success. Each year the play has made a deeper impression on the people until it looks as though it had become the standard American drama. Mr. Thomas has not aimed to do much in "Alabama" except to tell a pretty love story, and that love is stronger than sectional resentment. He has shown, as his lines indicate, that sectional resentment is 18 years behind the times. He has caused the shouters of sectionalism on both sides of the Mason and Dixon line to realize that there is a new South and a younger generation; that there is a new North and a younger generation; that they are all Americans, and those who do not want to keep up with the procession, have to go to the rear. The company presenting "Alabama" this season is better than ever, and includes Frank C. Bangs, Clement Bainbridge, George B. Miller, L. P. Hicks, Bingley Pales, Charles Moore, Edward Maas, Ethel Irving, Inez Knowlton, Louise V. McElroy and Emyline Barr.

THE MINING EXCHANGE.

First Call.

Colorado Springs, July 9.—Business this morning proved to be about as dull as ever it has been since the existance of the Exchange. Only two stocks were traded in and the total sales amounted to 1750 shares. With these conditions existing it will be no surprise to learn that prices were again weak as they were upon the previous day. There were, however, two or three really strong stocks on the list while none of them made any rapid decline downwards but showed a general debility. The strong stocks referred to were Isabella, Anaconda and Portland. Of the three Isabella was the only one traded in and it had an even 500 sales. The stock went at 19¼ which is a point or two higher than it has been selling at of late. The same price was bid for more at the close of the call but there was none offered at less than 19¼. The other seller was Union which was weakish in comparison with the previous day, 1000 shares going at 14⅞ and an odd lot of 250 shares bringing 15. At the close there were offerings at 14¾ with 14⅞ the best bid. The reason of Portland's inactivity was very evident as it was held so high. It started out with offerings at over 80 but was gradually taken down to 80. Lower than that it would not go but 78 was bid for it which is higher than it has ever been before.

Second Call.

Business at the second call of the Exchange was much brisker than at the first but there was nothing to brag about. The best thing about the call was the comparatively large number of stocks that were traded in. Though not the heaviest, Anaconda and Portland were the most notable traders. Both are very strong and the latter went to even higher figures than in the morning and for the second time in the day it was bid for at higher prices than ever before. The closing quotation shows 80¼, but as a matter of fact as much as 80 was bid for 6000 shares of the stock, though it was withdrawn just before the close of the call. The offerings stood at 81½ and it was held very firmly at that figure. Anaconda had a couple of 500 sales which went at 41½ and 42. The higher price was still bid for board lots when the hammer fell for the last time. The low price at which Argentum sold created some surprise, but it was evidently a forced sale of 500 shares that caused the rapid decline. It started out with the sale of 100 shares at 98, then another 100 brought 97½ and it wound up with the sale of 300 shares at 97. It showed a slight improvement at the close, with 97 bid. Union was a ready seller at 14¾ and lost another point. Bob Lee had 5000 sales at $5 per 1000. The sales in the listed stocks for the day amounted to 7,300 shares.

Separate Sales.

The separate sales for the first call were: Isabella, 500 at 19¼; Union, 1000 at 14⅝ and 250 at 15. For the second call they were: Anaconda, 500 at 42 and 500 at 41½; A. J., 100 at 98, 100 at 97½ and 300 at 97; Bob Lee, 5000 at $5 per 1000; Isabella, 1500 at 19¼; Stamped Isabella, 500 at 18¾; Pharmacist, 500 at 5¼; Portland, 50 at 77; Union, 1500 at 14¾.

Unlisted Stocks.

Sales in stocks on the free list yesterday were as follows:

Ben Hur, 1000 at 3⅛, 1000 at 3 and 1000 at 2¾.

Bankers, 3000 at 2½.

This makes the total for the day 18,550 shares.

About A. J.

Owing to the fact, perhaps, that the price of A. J. has been declining within the past few days, a movement that was strongly emphasized yesterday, a pretty strong rumor has been going the rounds that no dividend could be paid next month.

A prominent officer of the company was seen regarding the matter and when he was told of the existing rumors he said. "What do they know about it. No one knows until the directors' meeting is held whether there will be a dividend or not next month and I shall not know until then." The gentleman went on to say no silver mine in the country had done so well as the Argentum Juniata in the past six months. The company has a large surplus in the treasury and everything in the mine is in a most favorable condition.

Although the statement was not made in so many words the impression was given that there will be a dividend next month without something unforeseen occurs.

Two new advertisers in our columns are Messrs. Sheldon and Hawkes. Both gentlemen are well known in this city and both are members of the Colorado Springs Board of Trade and Mining Exchange. They are prominent in the commission business and can be relied upon to fill all orders with promptness and accuracy.

The Colorado Springs Board of Trade and Mining Exchange.

First Call.

Colorado Springs, July 9.—The first call of the Board of Trade proved a busy one. The sales were heavy and the good total was largely helped out by activity in Doubloon, Colorado City and Manitou and Buckhorn. The latter stock had an even 20,000 sales, all of which brought 2⅝, showing it to be strong and in very good demand. Summit was selling at an advance over the previous day's quotations. It started in with 2500 shares at 8¼, then 4000 went at a point better than that and it wound up with 5000 sales at 8⅜, the number of sales increasing with every advance in price. "Old Town" had 11,000 sales which went at an even cent. Union opened at 15¼ but weakened and was selling at 4⅞ at the close of the call. Ben Hur, Ophir and Mutual all had a few sales at good figures. Creede and Cripple Creek was strong at 2, Gould at 3 and Temomj at 3½.

Second Call.

Not quite so many shares changed hands at the second call of the Board of Trade as in the morning but all the same a good deal of business was done. Summit was again well to the front but did not increase any more in price. Sales in it amounted to 7000 shares, 2000 of which brought 8¼ and a block of 5000 shares 8½. The heaviest seller was Granite Hill with over 20,000 shares to its credit. The bulk of it brought $8 per 1000 while a couple of thousand went at 50 cents less. The silver stocks were represented by 600 Mollie Gibson which brought 88 and 90. Temomj was strong and in good demand, selling at 3½ and 3¾, the highest point it has reached since the recent rush after it. Copper Mtn. is in pretty good demand at low figures, 11,000 shares of it going at $5 and $5.25 per 1000. The total sales for the day amounted to 117,300 shares.

The Denver Pit.

Special to The Gazette.

Denver, July 9.—This was another lively day for the Exchange, it being a good all-round call. Justice was far and away the most lively stock and was about the strongest one on the list too. Sales in it amounted to 23,000 shares and the selling figure touched as high as 5. It was offered at that price at the close with a good many offers on the floor of 4¾. Another lively stock was Isabella which was also quite strong. Its strength is shown by the closing figures which stand at 19¾ with offerings at 20. Sales in it amounted to over 6000 shares. Amity and Bangkok were the other lively stocks on the list and Big Six, Mollie Gibson and Union Leasing also had a few sales. Mollie remains about the same with very large blocks wanted at 84 for 30 days. Union Leasing is a little stronger, selling at 61.

Weekly Letter Extracts.

The following items are from the weekly market letter of Mr. Frank H. Pettingell: "Dullness has been the rule rather than the exception in almost every class of stocks, possibly not mentioning some of the very cheapest which are being purchased as one would buy Louisiana State lottery tickets, expecting little by the investment and not being surprised at anything.

"Still, this is without a question the most active summer we have ever experienced since the boom occasioned during the early days of Cripple Creek.

"There is hardly anything of interest to note unless it is the continued strength of Portland and the disinclination of Argentum to advance.

"The quotation in Portland should naturally strengthen with the increase of the dividend. In my opinion the most plausible reason of its not doing so is that this favorable feature has been so long expected that it was over discounted. A sharp advance was anticipated in Argentum which has not as yet presented itself, which is difficult to explain, as the present price is evidently far below intrinsic level. The handsome surplus in the company's treasury should not be overlooked."

In his weekly letter Mr. Sherwood Aldrich says: "The national holiday broke into the volume of the week's trading, but the market as a whole was strong and active. Anaconda rose and closed scarce and in demand. It seems probable that it will go higher. The mine is turning out a rather better grade of ore in large quantities daily. The three cent dividend on Argentum Juniata seems to have had but slight favorable effect upon the stock. The weakness of A. J. is a source of constant surprise. At the present rate of dividends the stock is producing an income of nearly 35 per cent. per annum. Isabella was strong and is evidently upon the up grade again. With the continuance of the present prospect it would seem that the stock should pay a dividend in September or October. The two cent dividend on Portland created a strong demand for that stock, and it, too, is scarce and advancing. Mollie Gibson was quiet and dull, as was Pharmacist. The election of a new board of directors for the Union company has very materially strengthened that stock. The new directors are first class business men, and enjoy the entire confidence of a large portion of the population of this district. The company's prospects seem brighter than they have for a long time.

"The trading in the free list was well distributed. Star of the West was active at from $7 to $7.50 per 1000. Union Leasing was rather quiet but steady. It seems very probable that we are to have no protracted dull period this summer."

The following items are from the weekly market letter of Messrs. Doubleday, Rope & Co.: "The volume of business transacted on the floor of the exchange during the past week has been small in spite of the increase of the Portland dividend.

"The Colorado Scientific Society, on their visit to Cripple Creek, made a very complete examination of the camp. Francis T. Freeland, in his paper on the geological formation of the north district, in speaking of Bull hill, mentioned that the fissure vein runs through the Isabella and Victor properties has been traced for over a mile in length and has been worked to a depth of four levels, or about 350 feet. This vein shows an increase of strength and value from the surface downward and there is no geological reason why such a fissure vein should not continue down to a very great depth.

"At the annual meeting of the Union Gold Mining company a new Board of Directors was elected, of which Mr. K. S. Johnson is president. From the reports presented at the meeting there seems to be a good prospect of the company's being able to resume payment of dividends in the near future.

"The Portland dividend has been increased to 2 cents a month, beginning on July 15. Although this increase has been expected and discounted for some time, it caused the stock to advance several cents. The earnings of the mine are considerably more than sufficient to pay the necessary $45,000 each month."

The Denver Mint.

Special to The Gazette:

Denver, July 9.—Deposits at the mint were again light to-day, the aggregate falling short of 500 ounces. The deposits were credits as follows: "Colorado Unknown," nine deposits, 300 ounces; Wyoming, one deposit, 9 ounces; Montana, one, 7 ounces; Oregon, one, 80 ounces; New Mexico, two, 15 ounces. Total, 411 ounces. Value, $6,500.

Good for Hill.

Mr. C. M. Hill, the popular proprietor of the Windsor hotel at Denver, some months ago secured a bond and lease on the Blue Jay and Whipporwill. The Whipporwill claim is on Bull hill. For a long time he worked along with indifferent success when he secured C. M. Searle to manage the property, who at once started work on a discovery shaft on the Blue Jay, where there was a strong vein showing. He has followed down on this now until it is 50 feet deep, where he finds he has at least six and possibly eight feet of vein matter. It is not thought that all of this will pay, but a sample taken from 24 inches of it day before yesterday showed to him a value of $91.60 to the ton. Samples were taken from the entire body to-night and it is within the range of possibility that it may all be pay.

Current News.

The Consolidated Kansas City Smelting and Refining company, on July 5, broke the record for all previous day's volume of business. On that day the output was 1720 ounces of gold, valued at $25,000, 81,000 ounces of silver, eight cars of lead and two of copper. The value of the entire product was about $80,000. The day's work was the largest recently done by any smelter in the world.

Mr. E. M. De La Vergne, who is heavily interested in the Raven mine at Cripple Creek, left for Europe on Saturday to complete a deal with English capitalists whereby the Raven property is to change

Twelve Per Cent.

THE prosperity that Colorado Springs is enjoying has caused interest rates to go down and the people who like big incomes are looking around for investments that produce well. We have for sale a land new house on one of our best streets in the city that is leased to produce an income of 12 per cent. on the price asked for it. This is one of the most little investments on our list, and in addition to producing this big rate of income will advance in value as the city grows. Price $4200. See it.

We have a nice new house with every modern convenience that we can exchange for a smaller house or good vacant lots, the purchaser paying the difference.

We offer a choice of a dozen or more good houses and cottages for good Cripple Creek mining stocks.

Chicago Gas was the sensation at the stock exchange to-day, 58,200 shares of it changing hands. The total transactions were 297,401 shares. Chicago Gas was demoralized throughout and all the unfavorable reports which have been current ever since the Illinois Legislature refused to pass the consolidation act, were mustered President Lincoln, it was said, will certainly retire and as for the dividends, it was rumored that the chances are decidedly slim. The latter had a most unfavorable effect on small holders who rushed in to sell. The stock was absolutely without support and at the close brought 53¾, against 59 last night The other industrials held fairly well for a time, but the breaking finally, affected them adversely.

In the last hour, railway stocks which had previously advanced anywhere from ¼ to 2 per cent. lost the improvement and closed rather weak. The net changes show losses of ¼ to 1 per cent, outside of Chicago Gas, which dropped 5⅛ per cent Bonds were strong. Sales footed up to $1,669,000.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, July 9.—Four minutes after the opening this morning wheat was 1⅝ cents under the close of yesterday. At the close it was 5⅛ under that day. It seemed as though the grain was a drug, as the smallest lots went begging for buyers. The weakness that developed yesterday had not worked to a full conclusion until this morning. When 66⅝ for September was reached, some demand was met with and then the "shorts" began to cover, prices working up gradually about ¾ of a cent. Liverpool cables were weak and lower. Cargoes at London were off from 3 to 6 pence and Continental markets were lower. There were light frosts in portions of the Northwest last night and some dispatches from that section reported injury to spring wheat from last week's hot winds.

Corn, after some hesitation at the opening, followed wheat on the early break, but upon the first symptoms of recovery in the finer grain the coarse readily turned and rallied. "Shorts" were the buyers and their supoprt was the main sustaining power of the prices.

Examine Carefully.

I consider there is only one proper way to advertise that pays, viz: to do it truthfully and candidly; not to misrepresent either through the newspapers or in your store, or allow your employees to do so. How far I have succeeded in adopting this method my crowded store testifies.
